Well Known Resident
of Burnside Takes
His Own LifeJohn Dowler, Aged 55, Leaves Note
Saying Life Had Been a Failure
And Held No Future For Him

ILL HEALTH PUOBABLY CAUSE OF DEED

John Dowler, better known as "Jack," and one of the best known citizens of the upper end of the county, committed suicide at his home in Burnside on Saturday evening last about 10:20 o'clock. The rash act took place in the kitchen of his home, his wife being in another part of the house where the deed was committed.

The evidence showed he had made careful preparation for the deed and after writing a note in which he stated that life had been a failure for him and held no promise for the future, he lay down on a couch and placing a revolver to his head sent a bullet crash-

Mr. Dowler was an honest, industrious man and a good citizen in every sense of the word and his rash act was a distinct shock to the entire community in which he lived and was so well known. He followed farming and lumbering all his life and was considered an expert timber estimator, his services being in demand in this line of work.

He was about 55 years of age and survived by a widow, who was a Miss Fuller, two brothers, one of whom is H. P. Dowler of Clearfield, and two sisters.

The only reason assigned for the act is ill health.

Dennery Refused a New Trial By
Judge Bell At Morning SessionMany Important Cases Come up For Trial at This Week's
Special Session

The special week of court opened this morning with Judge Bell presiding until Judge Whitehead could reach here.

Owing to the fact that he had a case scheduled for hearing at Williamsport this morning, Judge Whitehead will be unable to get here until 7 o'clock this evening and as a result Judge Whitehead will not be able to open court here until tomorrow morning.

Anthony Garinski, of DuBois, who was convicted last term of criminal court of aggravated assault and battery on a fellow countryman, was called before the court for sentence. John Pentz made a plea for Garinski and presented a largely signed petition asking for leniency toward him. Attorney Gleason who prosecuted the case joined in the recommendation and Judge Bell directed Garinski to pay the prosecutors claim and the costs in the case and suspended further sentence. The costs amounted to $175.74.

Chester Dobrinski, also of DuBois, who was convicted of a similar charge, was given a similar sentence on request of his attorney John C. Arnold, which was also concurred in by Attorney Gleason, who prosecuted him. He was assessed $162.77.

Judge Bell handed down an opinion and decree in which he refused a new trial to M. W. Dennery the "Big Swede," who was convicted in September last of first degree murder for the killing of John Rowles in the Shade shanty in the East End of Clearfield in January, 1916.

Dennery's attorneys, Messrs. Gleason and Liveright, had made a motion for a new trial principally on the ground that John Rodkey, of Woodward township, had served on the jury when his uncle John Rodkey, of Houtdale borough, was the juror summoned.

When handing down the decree refusing a new trial Judge Bell did not fix a time for sentence, and it is quite likely his action was governed by the pending bills in the state legislature which provide for the abolishment of capital punishment. It is only reasonable to suppose that the "Big Swede's" fate depends on the present legislature. If the death penalty is abolished he will escape the death chair and if not he will undoubtedly be sentenced by Judge Bell to electrocution.

Among the cases to be tried by Judge Whitehead this week will be those of James Marks and Patrick Egan against the DuBois Printing company. These cases were tried and verdicts rendered against the Printing company in the sum of $1,000 each and were afterwards appealed to the Superior court and new trials ordered. The actions grew out of alleged libels in the DuBois Journal.

Another case of more than ordinary interest is that of James Read vs. Orie Shaffer et al. This case grows out of the death of a son of Mr. Read's while being initiated into a side degree of the Olmsted castle Knights of the Golden Eagle.

VERY PRETTY BIRTHDAY PARTY

In Honor of William C. Chase, Jr.'s, 12th Birthday

Saturday evening, February 24th, the young friends of William C. Chase Jr., gave him a merry birthday party at the home of his parents 308 Nichols St., in honor of his 12th birthday. While this was supposed to be a surprise party, Billy "got next" and took to the woods, as it were, and after the guests had arrived they could not find their host, but at a late bed time, "Billy" becoming weary of waiting for his downy bed came back, not at all surprised to find them there, but surprised to think they had not gotten tired waiting for him and gone home. The youngsters enjoyed the evening in games and music, and at a late hour, after refreshments pleasing to the young boys and girls of their age, they departed to their homes, after wishing "Billy" many happy returns of the day.

"Billy" is very much imbued with the military spirit and wants to become a graduate of West Point and says that before he is out of his "teens" he expects to be a full fledged officer of Uncle Sam's service, and hopes to become a Grant, Meade, Funston or Pershing, and make a record of which his old home town will be proud.

Miss Nan Fulford returned today from a week's visit with friends in Carrolltown and Patton.

MANY ARRIVALS
AT WASHINGTON
FOR INAUGURALEvery Train Pours in Hordes of
Democrats With Far Greater
Crowds to Come

MANY CLEARFIELDERS GOING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Visitors from all sections of the country are already invading Washington, and, unless all signs fail, the attendance at the inauguration of President Wilson one week from today will be unprecedented in the nation's history. The advance guard of the great tide of humanity that will fill the city to overflowing and tax its hospitality and accommodations to the utmost it now on the ground, and is making itself very much at home. The streets are comfortably filled with a bustling, eager, good natured throng, while the departments and the Capitol are receiving their full quota of visiting sight-seers. Railroad officials declare themselves fully prepared to handle the greater crowds that are expected to arrive with each succeeding day, and members of the inauguration committee are especially gratified that the invasion has begun at so early a date.

The city is putting on its gayest holiday attire, and Pennsylvania avenue and other business thoroughfares are bright and cheerful with liberal displays of flags, bunting and other forms of decoration. By Wednesday the elaborate scheme of decoration contemplated by the committee, it is expected, will be carried out in every detail, making Washington literally ablaze with the national colors.

The central feature of the decorative scheme is the Court of Honor, where will be located the stands from which the President and his guests will review the inaugural procession. The court consists of a classical colonnade, each column carrying an urn of flowers and smilax, the columns being relieved at intervals by pilons bearing the American flag, and the whole connected by festoons of laurels. At the entrances at Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets the pilons are exceptionally elaborate. Each is surmounted by a tripod bearing a cluster of lights.

The illumination of the court will be accomplished by lighting each pilon and its flag, and also the center pediment, by flood lights placed on the opposite side of the avenue, by lighting the festoons with incandescent lamps and the urns on the columns by separate lamps. The globes on the mail columns will be kaleidoscopic, with an exceptionally wide range of colors. White and green will be the coloring effect of the court. No other colors will be used except those of the American flag which have been liberally employed in the decorative scheme.

The high cost of living and national preparedness against both economic and military foes are featured in the big educational symposium of "Uncle Sam in His Workshop," which was opened today for the entertainment of the inaugural visitors. The exhibition, which is the first of its kind, is intended to give the general public a closer acquaintance with the workings of the Federal government and all its departments.

The high cost of living problem in its principal phases, together with what the Department of Agriculture, backed up by the parcel post and other government agencies, is doing to lower prices is presented on a scale calculated to convey suggestions of the greatest practical value to every home in the country.

The educational display embraces many of the Government exhibits seen at the San Francisco and San Diego expositions. Particularly notable is the Treasury Department's exhibit, which shows the operations of the revenue cutter service, the public health service, the mint and money-making departments and other branches of the Treasury Department.

John Dimeling has been confined to his home on Second street with pneumonia.

*THERE IS ONLY ONE

AMERICAN IN HELL*

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 26.—M. H. Gossett, manager of the municipal free employment bureau, is in receipt of two letters from widely divergent places. One was from a woman in Paradise, Tex., seeking a cook. The other was from a friend in Hell, Norway—J. A. Norton of Boston—who bragged that he was the only American in Hell.

WOMEN AND THEIR ACTIVITIES

Miss Clare Kummer has been a playwright less than a year, but in that time she has written two of the most successful plays seen in New York this season.

The distinction of being the youngest Portia in Massachusetts belongs to Miss Jennie Shaine, a 21-year-old girl who has just been admitted to the bar in Boston.

The Fort Worth Housewives' league has organized a campaign for "meatless days," by which several days each week all the housewives in Fort Worth will abstain from purchasing or serving meats. The aim is to reduce the cost of living.

For the first time in the nation's history the wife of its Chief Executive will be by his side when he takes the oath of office at the impressive inaugural ceremonies of March 5. On that day Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will not only ride with the President from the White House to the Capitol, but she will stand only a few feet from him when he takes the oath of office.

The Progress collector will visit Curwensville tomorrow, February 27th. Kindly be ready.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES MUST BE REPORTED

The local health authorities are informed that there is a great deal of whooping cough about town which is not reported to the Board of Health and against the spread of which no precautions are being taken. It is a direct violation of the health laws of the state to attempt to cover up a case of contagious disease of any kind and if the investigation now under way brings the proper fruit several arrests will be made.

If contagious diseases are not quarantined against there is no way to prevent them spreading hence the activity in this matter.

PREACHED AT WOODLAND

Rev. John McCurdy preached a very able sermon at the United Brethren church at Woodland last evening. Rev. McCurdy is a very busy man these days. It is a rare Sabbath indeed that he is not called upon to render service to his King in some section of this community and his ability along this line is the topic of a great deal of favorable comment.

Recites Many Unfriendly Acts of the German Government Since Breaking Off of Relations*

London, Feb. 26.—The German ambassador in New York today recited many unfriendly acts of the German government since breaking off of relations with the United States.

The ambassador stated that the German government had broken off relations with the United States on January 13, 1917, and that since that time it had taken many unfriendly acts against the United States.

A list of these acts included the sinking of the liner Lusitania, the seizure of American ships, and the arrest of American citizens in Germany.

The ambassador also stated that the German government had refused to allow American ships to call at German ports, and that it had refused to allow American citizens to travel in German ships.

The ambassador concluded his list of unfriendly acts by stating that the German government had refused to allow American ships to call at German ports, and that it had refused to allow American citizens to travel in German ships.

Pottsville Miss Prescribed For Dad When He Had Pneumonia

"Daddy with Vick's 'Cause Made Me Better, and It Will Be Him Better, Too," Said the Emma Kienzle.

KIENZLE IS WELL NOW.

EMMA KIENZLE
POTTSVILLE, PA.

When Mr. C. F. Kienzle, 811 Laurel Pottsville, Pa., was stricken with pneumonia, his little daughter, Emma, recommended the remedy that always relieved her colds. Her advice was good, for Mrs. Kienzle writes: "The doctor had little hopes for him but I kept right on using Vick's and the pneumonia was broken." When Vick's VapoRub Salve was introduced from the South, Pharmacy presented Mrs. Kienzle a jar, and requested that a thorough trial. Mrs. Kienzle writes: "My little girl was with a severe cold. Her head and she could not get her nostrils. She was in the chest and complained of her throat hurting her. We had been trying to doctor her up with cough syrops and tonics, but nothing seemed to break her cold. I rubbed a little Vick's VapoRub up her nostrils and made her inhale a little of it, and she had instant relief in the head. When I put her to bed I rubbed her chest and throat with a good thick application, and in the morning there was no trace of a cold."

Mothers will find Vick's VapoRub Salve a sure enough "Bodyguard in the home." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

Wilson Goes Before Congress For Authority to Protect Americans

He declared that he would wait before taking final action to discover whether Germany valued more highly the friendship of the United States or the animosity of her allies.

Then President Wilson declared that only an "overt act" will start a war between the United States and Germany. "If the obduracy and prudence of their purpose is unhappily to destroy American ships and American lives should be ruthlessly sacrificed by their naval commander in headless contravention of the United States and are contrary to international law and the of humanity then I shall ask that authority be given me to act on our ships and our people on the high seas."

The President appealed to the joint session for permission to arm American merchantmen and to establish "armed neutrality" and to have full and immediate assurance that he may exercise any authority that he deems necessary to handle the German-American situation.

Declaring that he is a "friend of peace and means to preserve it for America as long as he is able" the President emphasized the fact that he neither asked or contemplates a step which might bring war through an act of this country.

He declared that war can only come through an act of Germany. War can only come through a willful or an act of aggression. He added in almost the next sentence "that we must defend our commerce and the lives of our people."

Chairman Flood immediately called a meeting of the members of the house foreign affair committee. The committee will consider the resolution Flood drafted before the message was delivered incorporating the legislation necessary to give the President the power he wants.

An Invocation In Hot Water Bottles

Something entirely new. Made of aluminum—scientifically indestructible—with watertight cap and seems to leak. One of the best articles of its kind ever produced. Throw away that old leaky rubber hot water bottle and get one of these.

SHAPED HOT WATER BOTTLE. Made of pure aluminum with a heavy outing flannel cover. Shaped so that it will conform to the contour of most any part of the body. Is water tight cap.

REGULAR CANTEN SHAPE BOTTLE. Made to the place of the ordinary hot water bottle. Has watertight cap and flannel cover.

FACE BOTTLE. Made in the same shape as the face but smaller to meet different conditions. Will not leak but will apply heat where heat is wanted. Has neat flannel cover.

ALUMINUM MEASURING SPOONS. Made of indestructible aluminum and will measure from 1-4 teaspoonful to a tablespoon. Absolutely sanitary. Not affected by acids. Indispensable for the accurate measurements in cooking.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

One's breadth of waist or lack of it. This year will safely bide. Concealed beneath the chemise frock, So straight of line and side. Ah, would that all one's surplus chine Could thus so smartly hide.

New York, Feb. 23.—It is indeed fitting in this period of excessively costly living that there should be no waste but not quite so fitting that there should be no waist. In truth you could hardly call it fitting at all the way the new frocks and suits hang straight and severe of line with no hint or dent of a curve or gentle intake.

We have had hips, my dear, and hoops, my dear, but now nothing but straight long lines will do. It's certainly going to be lumpy going for pudgy persons.

With their clinging ways coat dresses and chemise frocks tried awfully hard to get around us all this winter but while the many fell for their straight lines straight away a few of us still held out for and on to our semblance of a waist line. However this spring and summer we must all capitulate and kiss our waists goodbye. That is of course if we are equal to such an acrobatically agile stunt.

Girdles and sash effects are omnipresent on all these straight line garments but you mustn't care to pull them in a bit to break the rigid outline of your silhouette. Indeed it would seem that Dame Fashion were striving to emulate Puck, that saucy sprite of "Midsummer Night's Dream" in his famous boast, "I'll put a girdle roundabout the earth in forty minutes." For she has certainly put a girdle around at least the feminine portion of the earth in less time than that.

Most of the girdles are flat bands of the same material as the suit or gown that imply cling around the spot where one's waist ought to be, without giving away its location by any undue pressure. Some of them are elaborately embroidered on the ends and almost to a girdle are finished with a tassel or two.

There's a mad taste for tassels too and they dangle from pockets, collars, cuffs and most every available spot.

Pockets aren't the favorites they once were and are found on very few of the newest gowns. Possibly because they break the slim contour of the straight line and in order to accentuate that same straight line the skirts are all forgetting their shortcomings of the last few seasons and decorously slinking anklewards.

Henceforth you may be short of breath, short of cash and short of stature but never short of skirt—that is, not much above the ankles. And since our conversation has reached the ankle level it is not altogether footless to remark on the new spring foot gear.

At last after chic Parisians, smart Londoners and Frenchy Argentine beauties have worn the short vamped, snubnosed high heeled Paris shoes and slippers for two whole seasons they are not at our lagging feet. Whether we will kick up much fuss about being shod in these long-as-they-are-broad effects is yet to be seen.

Truly after the long, long vamps of the long, long winter our pedal extremities are to be driven to extremes it seems. Tootsies really look much tiner in these new French foot fashions if you don't mind looking a bit as if you had club feet.

Up-to-date I haven't glimpsed any on a real American foot but there are lots on hand in the smartest Fifth avenue shops.

Buttoned, laced, strapped and in all colors of suede kid, satin and patent leather they are like the shoes of another season save for the abrupt difference of absolutely round stub toes where heretofore our vamps were as long and pointed as a wifely curtain lecture.

Since fashion has put her foot down in short vamps on long vamps however it looks as if there would be nothing for us to do but toe the mark in these round toed boots. Verily the footprintst on the sands of summer

500 BABIES STARVE TO DEATH EACH YEAR IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 26.—The city council health committee and juvenile court officials headed by Alderman Willis O. Nance, today started a fight on the professional "baby farms" in Chicago.

The action is the outgrowth of an investigation. Officials estimate that more than five hundred babies, from 4 months to 4 years old, are being starved to death in the "baby boarding houses," every year.

The average charge for keeping a baby is $3 a week, of which the "landlady" spend sixty cents for the child's food the rest being pocketed as profit.

Besides crowding dozens of babies into filthy hovels, where they slowly die of mal-nutrition, commonly known as "starvation," and attendant diseases, many of the houses are abortion mills, where a baby will be "disposed of" for $25 or $50 the investigators found.

Babies are said to be carried out for burial in suitcases.

"About one-fourth of the babies are illegitimate," said Arthur A. Guild, officer of the Juvenile Protective association. "In many cases the children come from homes where the father or mother has deserted the family. And there are a few instances where a family is able to take care of the baby, but does not want it around."

What is Electro Plating?

Electro plating is a process whereby the finer metals—brass, bronze, nickel, silver and gold in solution—are amalgamated with metals of the baser sort through the medium of electricity.

It takes a specially equipped plant—it takes scrupulous care in the mixing of the chemicals—it takes years of experience for the plater to acquire the requisite knowledge necessary to combine the various operations into a successful union.

We have the plant; the knowledge of chemicals and the experience. What have you that will make your home brighter or your work more efficient by having it re-plated?

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready to use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyrth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a soft brush or sponge with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyrth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. The ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet to use and is a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WOULD SHARE REQUEST WITH BROTHER

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 26.—Morris Farr, a man who believes in the golden rule and brotherly love, will be obliged to fight his sister, Mrs. Emma Reinhard of Nelson, Wis., in court to win an equal share of their mother's estate of $20,000 for Will Farr of New Galle, Wis., disinherited brother. Mrs. Reinhard objected to giving her brother anything, while Morris is willing to lose a large part of his share to see that Will "gets a square deal." The legal battle to decide the dispute is scheduled to begin in court at Alma tomorrow.

THE CUNARD LINER LACONIA IS SUNK

Well Known Resident
of Burnside Takes
His Own LifeJohn Dowler, Aged 55, Leaves Note
Saying Life Had Been a Failure
And Held No Future For Him

ILL HEALTH PUOBABLY CAUSE OF DEED

John Dowler, better known as "Jack," and one of the best known citizens of the upper end of the county, committed suicide at his home in Burnside on Saturday evening last about 10:20 o'clock. The rash act took place in the kitchen of his home, his wife being in another part of the house where the deed was committed.

The evidence showed he had made careful preparation for the deed and after writing a note in which he stated that life had been a failure for him and held no promise for the future, he lay down on a couch and placing a revolver to his head sent a bullet crashing through his right temple.

Mr. Dowler was an honest, industrious man and a good citizen in every sense of the word and his rash act was a distinct shock to the entire community in which he lived and was so well known. He followed farming and lumbering all his life and was considered an expert timber estimator, his services being in demand in this line of work.

He was about 55 years of age and survived by a widow, who was a Miss Fuller, two brothers, one of whom is H. P. Dowler of Clearfield, and two sisters.

The only reason assigned for the act is ill health.

Dennery Refused a New Trial By
Judge Bell At Morning SessionMany Important Cases Come up For Trial at This Week's
Special Session

The special week of court opened this morning with Judge Bell presiding until Judge Whitehead could reach here.

Owing to the fact that he had a case scheduled for hearing at Wilkesport this morning, Judge Whitehead will be unable to get here until 7 o'clock this evening and as a result Judge Whitehead will not be able to open court here until tomorrow morning.

Anthony Garinski, of DuBois, who was convicted last term of criminal court of aggravated assault and battery on a fellow countryman, was called before the court for sentence. John Pentz made a plea for Garinski and presented a largely signed petition asking for leniency toward him. Attorney Gleason who prosecuted the case joined in the recommendation and Judge Bell directed Garinski to pay the prosecutors claim and the costs in the case and suspended further sentence. The costs amounted to $175.74.

Chester Dobrinski, also of DuBois, who was convicted of a similar charge, was given a similar sentence on request of his attorney John C. Arnold, which was also concurred in by Attorney Gleason, who prosecuted him. He was assessed $162.77.

Judge Bell handed down an opinion and decree in which he refused a new trial to M. W. Dennery the "Big Swede," who was convicted in September last of first degree murder for the killing of John Rowles in the Shade shanty in the East End of Clearfield in January, 1916.

Dennery's attorneys, Messrs. Gleason and Liveright, had made a motion for a new trial principally on the ground that John Rodkey, of Woodward township, had served on the jury when his uncle John Rodkey, of Houtdale borough, was the juror summoned.

When handing down the decree refusing a new trial Judge Bell did not fix a time for sentence, and it is quite likely his action was governed by the pending bills in the state legislature which provide for the abolishment of capital punishment. It is only reasonable to suppose that the "Big Swede's" fate depends on the present legislature. If the death penalty is abolished he will escape the death chair and if not he will undoubtedly be sentenced by Judge Bell to electrocution.

Among the cases to be tried by Judge Whitehead this week will be those of James Marks and Patrick Egan against the DuBois Printing company. These cases were tried and verdicts rendered against the Printing company in the sum of $1,000 each and were afterwards appealed to the Superior court and new trials ordered. The actions grew out of alleged libels in the DuBois Journal.

Another case of more than ordinary interest is that of James Read vs. Orie Shaffer et al. This case grows out of the death of a son of Mr. Read's while being initiated into a side degree of the Olmsted castle Knights of the Golden Eagle.

VERY PRETTY BIRTHDAY PARTY

In Honor of William C. Chase, Jr.'s,

12th Birthday

Saturday evening, February 24th, the young friends of William C. Chase Jr., gave him a merry birthday party at the home of his parents 308 Nichols St., in honor of his 12th birthday. While this was supposed to be a surprise party, Billy "got next" and took to the woods, as it were, and after the guests had arrived they could not find their host, but at a late bed time, "Billy" becoming weary of waiting for his downy bed came back, not at all surprised to find them there, but surprised to think they had not gotten tired waiting for him and gone home. The youngsters enjoyed the evening in games and music, and at a late hour, after refreshments pleasing to the young boys and girls of their age, they departed to their homes, after wishing "Billy" many happy returns of the day.

Following is the list of guests present: Boys, Duane Neff, Carl Walther, Lex Gaylor, Curtis Smith, Fred Ammerman, Ernest Mangeson, John Smith, 43rd, George Rees, Ward Ferguson, John Brickley, Robert McBlain, Jr., Ray McLaughlin, Ted Bowes, and George Walther. "Billy's" lady friends present were: Misses Hazel Boyce, Rosyella Harry, Ruth Evans, Twila Beers, Nancy Waple, Electa Cochran, Mildred White, Ruth Rowles, Genevieve Halford, Edith Beale, Ruth Mons, Lucille House, Lola McLaughlin, Rubie Ammerman, Edna Chase, Elizabeth Chase and Helen Chase.

"Billy" is very much imbued with the military spirit and wants to become a graduate of West Point and says that before he is out of his "teens" he expects to be a full fledged officer of Uncle Sam's service, and hopes to become a Grant, Meade, Funston or Pershing, and make a record of which his old home town will be proud.

Miss Nan Fulford returned today from a week's visit with friends in Carrolltown and Patton.

MANY ARRIVALS
AT WASHINGTON
FOR INAUGURALEvery Train Pours in Hordes of
Democrats With Far Greater
Crowds to Come

MANY CLEARFIELDERS GOING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Visitors from all sections of the country are already invading Washington, and, unless all signs fail, the attendance at the inauguration of President Wilson one week from today will be unprecedented in the nation's history. The advance guard of the great tide of humanity that will fill the city to overflowing and tax its hospitality and accommodations to the utmost it now on the ground, and is making itself very much at home. The streets are comfortably filled with a bustling, eager, good natured throng, while the departments and the Capitol are receiving their full quota of visiting sight-seers. Railroad officials declare themselves fully prepared to handle the greater crowds that are expected to arrive with each succeeding day, and members of the inauguration committee are especially gratified that the invasion has begun at so early a date.

The city is putting on its gayest holiday attire, and Pennsylvania avenue and other business thoroughfares are bright and cheerful with liberal displays of flags, bunting and other forms of decoration. By Wednesday the elaborate scheme of decoration contemplated by the committee, it is expected, will be carried out in every detail, making Washington literally ablaze with the national colors.

The central feature of the decorative scheme is the Court of Honor, where will be located the stands from which the President and his guests will review the inaugural procession. The court consists of a classical colonnade, each column carrying an urn of flowers and smilax, the columns being relieved at intervals by pilons bearing the American flag, and the whole connected by festoons of laurels. At the entrances at Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets the pilons are exceptionally elaborate. Each is surmounted by a tripod bearing a cluster of lights.

The illumination of the court will be accomplished by lighting each pilon and its flag, and also the center pediment, by flood lights placed on the opposite side of the avenue, by lighting the festoons with incandescent lamps and the urns on the columns by separate lamps. The globes on the mail columns will be kaleidoscopic, with an exceptionally wide range of colors. White and green will be the coloring effect of the court. No other colors will be used except those of the American flag which have been liberally employed in the decorative scheme.

The high cost of living and national preparedness against both economic and military foes are featured in the big educational symposium of "Uncle Sam in His Workshop," which was opened today for the entertainment of the inaugural visitors. The exhibition, which is the first of its kind, is intended to give the general public a closer acquaintance with the workings of the Federal government and all its departments.

The high cost of living problem in its principal phases, together with what the Department of Agriculture, backed up by the parcel post and other government agencies, is doing to lower prices is presented on a scale calculated to convey suggestions of the greatest practical value to every home in the country.

The educational display embraces many of the Government exhibits seen at the San Francisco and San Diego expositions. Particularly notable is the Treasury Department's exhibit, which shows the operations of the revenue cutter service, the public health service, the mint and money-making departments and other branches of the Treasury Department.

John Dimeling has been confined to his home on Second street with pneumonia.

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 26.—M. H. Gossett, manager of the municipal free employment bureau, is in receipt of two letters from widely divergent places. One was from a woman in Paradise, Tex., seeking a cook. The other was from a friend in Hell, Norway—J. A. Norton of Boston—who bragged that he was the only American in Hell.

WOMEN AND THEIR ACTIVITIES

Miss Clare Kummer has been a playwright less than a year, but in that time she has written two of the most successful plays seen in New York this season.

The distinction of being the youngest Portia in Massachusetts belongs to Miss Jennie Shaine, a 21-year-old girl who has just been admitted to the bar in Boston.

The Fort Worth Housewives' league has organized a campaign for "meatless days," by which several days each week all the housewives in Fort Worth will abstain from purchasing or serving meats. The aim is to reduce the cost of living.

For the first time in the nation's history the wife of its Chief Executive will be by his side when he takes the oath of office at the impressive inaugural ceremonies of March 5. On that day Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will not only ride with the President from the White House to the Capitol, but she will stand only a few feet from him when he takes the oath of office.

The Progress collector will visit Curwensville tomorrow, February 27th. Kindly be ready.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES MUST BE REPORTED

The local health authorities are informed that there is a great deal of whooping cough about town which is not reported to the Board of Health and against the spread of which no precautions are being taken. It is a direct violation of the health laws of the state to attempt to cover up a case of contagious disease of any kind and if the investigation now under way brings the proper fruit several arrests will be made.

If contagious diseases are not quarantined against there is no way to prevent them spreading hence the activity in this matter.

PREACHED AT WOODLAND

Rev. John McCurdy preached a very able sermon at the United Brethren church at Woodland last evening. Rev. McCurdy is a very busy man these days. It is a rare Sabbath indeed that he is not called upon to render service to his King in some section of this community and his ability along this line is the topic of a great deal of favorable comment.

Recites Many Unfriendly Acts of the German Government Since Break-
ing Off of Relations

London, Feb. 26.—The German ambassador in New York today recited many unfriendly acts of the German government since breaking off of relations.

The ambassador stated that the German government had broken off relations with the United States on January 13, 1917, and that the majority of the German people were in favor of the war.

The ambassador also stated that the German government had taken many unfriendly acts against the United States, including the sinking of the Lusitania and the seizure of American property in Germany.

The ambassador concluded his recital by stating that the German government was determined to continue the war until it had achieved its objectives.

SOUNDS GOOD

"Your flag and my flag—
And how it flies today
In your land and my land
And half a world away!
Rose-red and blood-red
The stripes forever gleam;
Snow white and soul white—
The good forefathers' dream.
Sky-blue and true-blue with stars to gleam afloat—
The gloried guidon of the day, a shelter through the night."

A THRIFT GARDEN

It will provide wholesome and profitable exercise of mind and body.
It will make a more contented people.
It will teach preparedness and economy.
It will conserve the resources of the country.

POOR MR. GRUNDY!

Joseph Grundy's distress over failure of the educational system of the State, especially of those provisions the existing law which drive children from the beneficent influences of factory labor into the baleful surroundings of the schoolroom, is very touching. Of course the hools are not perfect; they unfortunately do sometimes run out bad spellers and "figurers"; the continuation schools have not yet been organized so as to fulfill the expectations of educational reformers. But that does not mean that because of these deficiencies the youth of the country must be condemned to the treadmill in order that manufacturers may the more easily—and cheaply—cope with the labor shortage. No, Mr. Grundy, the country is not "dare to toy with so vital a matter" as the welfare of its little ones; it does not believe that "child labor" is essential to industrial prosperity or that the laws for protection of children are going to drive us back into Stone Age. Those laws are here to stay, and while frankness of the lingering opposition is refreshing, manufacturers for whom Mr. Grundy speaks will have to look for some other remedy for their troubles than a resort to an evil the successful war against which is one of our most precious achievements of our social and industrial progress.—Public Ledger.

A LITTLE INTRODUCTION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL

Of course you have thoughts concerning other people, but have you ever stopped long enough in the quiet of your life to study yourself? Have you ever forced yourself to sit quietly while you made an honest and true view of your character? If you have then there is no need for me to tell you how valuable such a communion with yourself becomes.

It is my privilege to know a girl—a dear girl—who who might make herself a thousand times more attractive if she would only study herself. She is generally conscious of her faults in others, and no fault that she discovers in a friend's dress, or in her study, or in her fault, but I don't believe she ever sits down and tries to herself, "Well, why did I want to do that?"

Therefore she has never known the wonderful victory that comes when a particular undesirable fault or trait has been overcome.

Label, perhaps, more than any friend of whom I can now think, makes her own character a study every day of it, and just let's see if it. She has very little time to herself, but she is the wife of a man in moderate circumstances with a dear little one on the way. It would be a shame for her to let her life slip into the hands of a man who would not study himself for the next minute.

HOW GOOD THAT MUSTEROLE FEELS!

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-ah! That's delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home supplies.

It does the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster minus the blister.

You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and usually the pain is gone.

No muss no bother. Just comforting, soothing relief—first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all no blisters like the old-fashioned mustard plaster used to make.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

ION LAWSON HAS A BIRTHDAY

Boston, Mass., Feb. 26.—Thomas W. Lawson, Boston financier, author and in price of the now famous "Lark" in vestigation, celebrated his sixtieth birthday anniversary today. Mr. Lawson carries in threescore years lightly, despite the fact that his life has been exceedingly strenuous and almost from the day he left school to embark upon his business career. According to his own biography he was publishing his own books at the early age of 15 years and was in business as a banker long before he had attained his majority.

BRITISH INDUSTRIES FAIR

London, Feb. 26.—The British Industries fair, inaugurated last year with a view to stimulating British manufactures of goods that were largely imported from Germany and Austria before the war, opened for its second annual exhibition today in the buildings of the Victoria and Albert Museum and the Imperial Institute. The exhibition is devoted chiefly to the display of British-made toys and games, cutlery and china, glass, fancy goods, stationery and printing.

Clear factories in New York City employ twice as many women as men.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking medicines or trying to patch up a poor diet, they are attacking the cause—the aliment-clogged liver—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse action in a soothing healing way. Water, bile and bowels are purified and stomach troubles are relieved. It is a magic remedy for corns and bunions. It is a magic remedy for corns and bunions. It is a magic remedy for corns and bunions.

WAR SPIRIT CLEARLY REGISTERED

Special at the Globe Theatre Tomorrow

The undercurrent of animosity which existed between the North and the South just prior to the Civil war is clearly depicted in the quaint, romantic story of "Rose of the South," the Vitagraph Epic Ribbon feature starring Peggy Hyland and Antonio Moreno which is the attraction at the Globe theatre tomorrow.

Scenes of the Northern college are shown with the students lounging about on the grass of the campus. Then "Big Randolph" with his dusky slave and faithful dog come, to the school from his Southern home and slowly the strained relations make themselves manifest and result in no end of quarrels.

Finally "Rose of the South" played by Peggy Hyland appears, and the desperate struggle for her love between Randolph and Watkins, a man of the North, ensues.

Pottsville Miss Prescribed For Dad When He Had Pneumonia

"Daddy with Vick's 'Cause I'm Better, and It Will Be Him Better, Too," Said the Emma Kienzle.

KIENZLE IS WELL NOW.

EMMA KIENZLE
POTTSVILLE, PA.

When Mr. C. F. Kienzle, 811 Laurel street, Pottsville, Pa., was stricken with pneumonia, his little daughter, Emma, recommended the remedy that always relieved her colds. Her advice was good, for Mrs. Kienzle writes: "The doctor had little hopes for him but I kept right on using Vick's VapoRub and the pneumonia was broken."

When Vick's VapoRub Salve was introduced from the South, Pharmacy presented Mrs. Kienzle a jar, and requested that a thorough trial. Mrs. Kienzle writes: "My little girl was with a severe cold. Her head and she could not get her nostrils. She was in the chest and complained of her throat hurting her. We had been trying to doctor her up with cough syrops and tonics, but nothing seemed to break her cold. I rubbed a little Vick's VapoRub up her nostrils and made her inhale a little of it, and she had instant relief in the head. When I put her to bed I rubbed her chest and throat with a good thick application, and in the morning there was no trace of a cold."

Mothers will find Vick's VapoRub Salve a sure enough "Bodyguard in the home." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

Wilson Goes Before Congress For Authority to Protect Americans

He declared that he would wait before taking final action to discover whether Germany valued more highly the friendship of the United States or the animosity of her allies.

Then President Wilson declared that only an "overt act" will start a war between the United States and Germany. "If the obduracy and prudence of their purpose is unhappily to destroy American ships and American lives should be ruthlessly sacrificed by their naval commander in headless contravention of the United States and are contrary to international law and the of humanity then I shall ask that authority be given me to act our ships and our people on the high seas."

The President appealed to the joint session for permission to arm American merchantmen and to establish "armed neutrality" and to have full and immediate assurance that he may exercise any authority that he deems necessary to handle the German-American situation.

Declaring that he is a "friend of peace and means to preserve it for America as long as he is able" the President emphasized the fact that he neither asked or contemplates a step which might bring war through an act of this country.

He declared that war can only come through an act of Germany. War can only come through a willful or an act of aggression. He added in almost the next sentence "that we must defend our commerce and the lives of our people."

Chairman Flood immediately called a meeting of the members of the house foreign affair committee. The committee will consider the resolution Flood drafted before the message was delivered incorporating the legislation necessary to give the President the power he wants.

An Invocation In Hot Water Bottles

Something entirely new. Made of aluminum—scientifically indestructible—with watertight cap and seems to leak. One of the best articles of its kind ever produced. Throw away that old leaky rubber hot water bottle and get one of these.

SHAPED HOT WATER BOTTLE. Made of pure aluminum with a heavy outing flannel cover. Shaped so that it will conform to the contour of most any part of the body. Is water tight cap.

REGULAR CANTEN SHAPE BOTTLE. Made to the place of the ordinary hot water bottle. Has watertight cap and flannel cover.

FACE BOTTLE. Made in the same shape as the face but smaller to meet different conditions. Will not leak but will apply heat where heat is wanted. Has neat flannel cover.

ALUMINUM MEASURING SPOONS. Made of indestructible aluminum and will measure from 1-4 teaspoonful to a tablespoon. Absolutely sanitary. Not affected by acids. Indispensable for the accurate measurements in cooking.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

One's breadth of waist or lack of it. This year will safely bide. Concealed beneath the chemise frock, So straight of line and side. Ah, would that all one's surplus chine Could thus so smartly hide.

New York, Feb. 23.—It is indeed fitting in this period of excessively costly living that there should be no waste but not quite so fitting that there should be no waist. In truth you could hardly call it fitting at all the way the new frocks and suits hang straight and severe of line with no hint or dent of a curve or gentle intake.

We have had hips, my dear, and hoops, my dear, but now nothing but straight long lines will do. It's certainly going to be lumpy going for pudgy persons.

With their clinging ways coat dresses and chemise frocks tried awfully hard to get around us all this winter but while the many fell for their straight lines straight away a few of us still held out for and on to our semblance of a waist line. However this spring and summer we must all capiculate and kiss our waists goodbye. That is of course if we are equal to such an acrobatically agile stunt.

Girdles and sash effects are omnipresent on all these straight line garments but you mustn't care to pull them in a bit to break the rigid outline of your silhouette. Indeed it would seem that Dame Fashion were striving to emulate Puck, that saucy sprite of "Midsummer Night's Dream" in his famous boast, "I'll put a girdle roundabout the earth in forty minutes." For she has certainly put a girdle around at least the feminine portion of the earth in less time than that.

Most of the girdles are flat bands of the same material as the suit or gown that imply cling around the spot where one's waist ought to be, without giving away its location by any undue pressure. Some of them are elaborately embroidered on the ends and almost to a girdle are finished with a tassel or two.

There's a mad taste for tassels too and they dangle from pockets, collars, cuffs and most every available spot.

Pockets aren't the favorites they once were and are found on very few of the newest gowns. Possibly because they break the slim contour of the straight line and in order to accentuate that same straight line the skirts are all forgetting their shortcomings of the last few seasons and decorously slinking anklewards.

Henceforth you may be short of breath, short of cash and short of stature but never short of skirt—that is, not much above the ankles. And since our conversation has reached the ankle level it is not altogether footless to remark on the new spring foot gear.

At last after chic Parisians, smart Londoners and Frenchy Argentine beauties have worn the short vamped, snubnosed high heeled Paris shoes and slippers for two whole seasons they are not at our lagging feet.

Whether we will kick up much fuss about being shod in these long-as-they-are-broad effects is yet to be seen. Truly after the long, long vamps of the long, long winter our pedal extremities are to be driven to extremes it seems. Tootsies really look much tiner in these new French foot fashions if you don't mind looking a bit as if you had club feet.

Up-to-date I haven't glimpsed any on a real American foot but there are lots on hand in the smartest Fifth avenue shops.

Buttoned, laced, strapped and in all colors of suede kid, satin and patent leather they are like the shoes of another season save for the abrupt difference of absolutely round stub toes where heretofore our vamps were as long and pointed as a wifely curtain lecture.

Since fashion has put her foot down in short vamps on long vamps however it looks as if there would be nothing for us to do but toe the mark in these round toed boots. Verily the footprintst on the sands of summer.

300 BABIES STARVE TO DEATH EACH YEAR IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 26.—The city council health committee and juvenile court officials headed by Alderman Willis O. Nance, today started a fight on the professional "baby farms" in Chicago.

The action is the outgrowth of an investigation. Officials estimate that more than five hundred babies, from 4 months to 4 years old, are being starved to death in the "baby boarding houses," every year.

The average charge for keeping a baby is $3 a week, of which the "landlady" spend sixty cents for the child's food the rest being pocketed as profit.

Besides crowding dozens of babies into filthy hovels, where they slowly die of mal-nutrition, commonly known as "starvation," and attendant diseases, many of the houses are abortion mills, where a baby will be "disposed of" for $25 or $50 the investigators found.

Babies are said to be carried out for burial in suitcases.

"About one fourth of the babies are illegitimate," said Arthur A. Guild, officer of the Juvenile Protective association. "In many cases the children come from homes where the father or mother has deserted the family. And there are a few instances where a family is able to take care of the baby, but does not want it around."

What is Electro Plating?

Electro plating is a process whereby the finer metals—brass, bronze, nickel, silver and gold in solution—are amalgamated with metals of the baser sort through the medium of electricity.

It takes a specially equipped plant—it takes scrupulous care in the mixing of the chemicals—it takes years of experience for the plater to acquire the requisite knowledge necessary to combine the various operations into a successful union.

We have the plant; the knowledge of chemicals and the experience. What have you that will make your home brighter or your work more efficient by having it re-plated?

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready to use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyrth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a soft brush or sponge with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyrth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. The ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet to use and is a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WOULD SHARE REQUEST WITH BROTHER

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 26.—Morris Farr, a man who believes in the golden rule and brotherly love, will be obliged to fight his sister, Mrs. Emma Reinhard of Nelson, Wis., in court to win an equal share of their mother's estate of $20,000 for Will Farr of New Galle, Wis., disinherited brother. Mrs. Reinhard objected to giving her brother anything, while Morris is willing to loose a large part of his share to see that Will "gets a square deal." The legal battle to decide the dispute is scheduled to begin in court at Alma tomorrow.
